The Raleigh Daily News.

JORDAN STONE, Managing Editor.
SAML T. WILLIAMS, Political Editor.

SUNDAY, DECEMBER 22, 1872.

FEALTY TO PARTY.

The News owes allegiance to no man, to no set of men, to no clique, ring, faction or corporation.

We bow to the will of the Conservative party alone. Our paper was not established to advocate the claims or promote the interests of any individual or individuals, who may aspire to office or desire to lead public sentiment.

We profess to have in view the interests of the Conservative party—which we place above the interests of any man's ambition.

We have our individual preferences—and who has not? But we will not allow our private feelings to interfere with what we regard our public duty, if we can avoid it.

So long as we have a Conservative party—so long as that party has any organization, we propose to adhere to that party and to stand by that organization—even if in doing so we should be compelled to yield our private judgment and do violence to our individual feelings.

Occupying this standpoint, we shall do all in our power to preserve the Conservative organization and to silence the voice of faction and discontent in our ranks.

It will be folly to close our eyes to the fact that there are causes at work which threaten to disturb that harmony and good feeling which are so essential to our political success in the future. Realizing this condition of affairs, believing that the welfare of North Carolina depends upon the maintenance of Conservative principles, we deprecate the evils that will follow the dissolution of our party.

It is foreign to our purpose to-day to discuss the causes that have brought about the present critical juncture. Whatever those causes may be, it seems to us that the path of duty now lies in the efforts of all true Conservatives to strive to hold the party together, and to frown down all attempts calculated to stir up strife and to keep alive prejudice and ill-feeling.

This is due to the party—this is due to the State—this is due to the principles which, as Conservatives, we have inscribed upon our banners and zealous ly battled for through the hotly contested struggles of the past.

Is the party to be torn into fragments because this or that man has been defeated—or this or that man has been defeated? Are the petty ambitions and personal spite of individuals to be considered paramount to the welfare and preservation of the party?

Men are nothing. This man or that man does not constitute the Conservative party of North Carolina. We have many able, distinguished, patriotic men in our ranks—men who have rendered us invaluable services—who have been true all the time and under all circumstances. To these men we owe a debt of gratitude, but we are not willing to see the party dismembered and rent asunder, to gratify their ambition nor to promote their success.

But, whatever the errors that may have been committed in the past, it is time to look to the future in the face and to inquire as to the policy that duty, common sense, judgment and patriotism demand at our hands. These teach us to stand strictly by party organization—to yield to the will of the majority—to deal leniently with those Conservatives who have differed with us in the past—to refrain from abuse and denunciation—to sacrifice passion and feeling on the altar of the party—to leave individual interest out of view in a common effort to restore harmony and kind feelings in our ranks, and thus preserve the party from utter ruin and demolition.

WILMINGTON AND THE NEW YORK RAILROAD.

The last Wilmington Journal has a very strong editorial in defence of Wilmington and her interests, and in opposition to the action of the Legislature in passing the bill chartering the New York, Norfolk and Norfolk Railroad.

The Journal says it is glad that there is one paper in the State, the Enquirer, that is not too much prejudiced against Wilmington, or is not fearful of bringing upon itself the displeasure of Wilmington's enemies, to say one word in its behalf when its vital interests are at stake.

So far as the News is concerned, we will state that we offered the use of our columns to the opponents of the bill against which the Journal inveighs so fiercely, as being detrimental to the interests of Wilmington. We published a communication signed "Wilmington" in opposition to the bill, as we had previously published one in favor of it.

We shall regret very much if the proposed Road injures Wilmington or its trade, because aside from other motives, we confess to a partiality for that enterprising and patriotic city. All our prejudices are in its favor.

their real purposes and designs nor their ability to redeem their pledges, to advocate strenuously the proposed enterprise.

We are in favor of Railroads, and if we cannot build them ourselves, will be glad to have others build for us. We wish to see the State a network of Railways, and we will not inquire who owns them or by whom they are built.

We do not know whether the New York, Norfolk and Charleston Railroad will ever be built or not. And if it is built, we should be sorry to see Wilmington's interests suffer by it. We would have been glad if the bill had been amended so as to have given Wilmington a branch to the main Road.

We have not been influenced by our silence on this question by what Wilmington's friends have said or by what Wilmington's enemies have said. We think the proposed road, if built, will be of vast service to the sections through which it will pass, yet we have not sufficient lights before us to give any assurance of its early or ultimate completion. We have not opposed it, because we are in favor of the principle of having Railroads built where it can be done without cost to the State or appropriations by the Legislature.

THE LOUISIANA TROUBLES.

It is to be hoped that Judge Bradley, of the Supreme Court of the United States, will accede to the wishes of the delegation of citizens from New Orleans, who are now in Washington city.

Judge Campbell, of New Orleans, who is Chairman of the delegation, in his interview with Grant proposed a very reasonable plan of settlement, by asking that one of the Judges of the Supreme Court be sent to Louisiana to take jurisdiction in place of Judge Du-rall, who has rendered himself so obnoxious that his opinions have no moral weight with the masses.

While President Grant would not make the request of any one of the Supreme Court Judges to go to Louisiana, he was willing to leave the matter to the Judges themselves, and would not object if either one thought proper to accede to Judge Campbell's wishes. If Judge Bradley should conclude to go, it is highly probable that the troubles in Louisiana will be placed in a fair way of adjustment, and that the law will be respected and obeyed.

[For the Daily News, Reply to X Y Z, Concord, Dec. 20, 1872.]

Editors Daily News.—I noticed in your daily issue of yesterday a communication signed "X Y Z," in which the foreword (that end of the alphabet) takes it upon himself to point out to the Legislature what they should do to make a sheriff account more faithfully for taxes under schedule "B." The writer is evidently laboring under acute epizootic (Blowing & Co.) caused by being compelled to carry too much of the responsibilities of the State government upon his shoulders during this spell of bad weather without being blanketed, &c. Remedy—Public laws of 1870 '71, chapter 225, just two chapters behind the one spoken of by X Y Z, Jr.

AN ABSURD MISTAKE.—An absurd mistake led on one occasion to temporary confinement of the late Lord Chancellor of Ireland in a mad house. His lordship had received an unfavorable report of this particular asylum, and being anxious to judge for himself, he drove up in a close car, without having sent any intimation of his coming. When the porter refused him admission, he said at last, "Am I the Lord Chancellor?" "No, Lord Chancellor, oh?" said the porter, with a grin, as he opened the gate, "Step in it's all right. We have seven of you here already. One got loose last week with the Emperor of China, but I thought both of you were back." By this time his lordship was within the gate, and a batch of warders summoned by the porter took him in charge. It was not till he had set for his secretary that he obtained release.

LEUTENANT BATES AND THE FLAG.—This poor fellow has just made a laughing stock of himself by carrying the U. S. flag through England, as he did from the city of Vicksburg to Washington City just after the war. This sensational display of the national colors is undignified, to say the least of it. How would the people of the United States feel, were an Englishman to march from Canada to New Orleans, flaunting the English colors bravado like, into the very faces of the American people? He would be looked upon as a madman, and worthy the lunatic asylum. Just so is this fellow Bates, whom the English press is now justly carrying.

Now it is Mr. W. J. Stillman, artist, who aims to set history right. He says the Venus de Milo, which everybody goes to see in the Louvre who goes to see the Louvre, isn't the Venus de Milo at all. It is a Greek statue of Minerva, says Mr. Stillman, which some Frenchman made into a Venus with a Grecian bend, by tipping it forward and putting a wooden wedge behind it.

There are now five ex-Lord Chancellors of England, each on the receipt of $25,000 a year as pension—Lord St. Leonards, Lord Chelmsford, Lord Westbury, Lord Cairns, and Lord Hatherly.

Mr. Jacobs recently passed a successful examination for admission to the University of Groningen, and is now the first and only female medical student in the Netherlands.

Mr. Gladstone is said to take as much interest in tree culture as Horace Greeley did. When at his manor, Howard, he takes up much time with his little hatchet.

A philosopher who married a vulgar, but amiable girl, used to call his wife brown sugar, because, he said, she was sweet but unrefined.

STATE NEWS.

A BAKERY is to be opened in Durham.

COTTON stealing is the order of the night at Battleboro.

Some of the young men in Charlotte are still wearing Glee hats.

DURHAM is crowded with drummers. So says the Tobacco Plant.

A WALKER has been elected President of the Tobacco Board of Trade of Durham.

The unlisted taxables for New Hanover for the present year amount to $17,025.85.

Mr. WILEY BURROWS died at his residence in Edgecombe county on the 17th inst.

GEN. ROBERT RAMSON was in Wilmington on Thursday. He has been on a visit through the South.

A non is to be given to the editor of the Durham Tobacco Plant during the holidays. We wish we lived in Durham.

The Durham Tobacco Plant is boasting of the band that place as being not only a good one, but the best looking band in the State.

The dwelling house of Mr. George T. Howerton, in Nash county was destroyed by fire. It is thought to have been the work of an incendiary.

DECEASED are at work in Wilmington. The residence of Mr. E. T. Hancock was entered Wednesday night and robbed the purse of Mrs. Hancock.

The bad weather of the past week prevented Miss Jennie Patterson from reading in Wilmington during the week. She will read there to-morrow evening.

Two colored boys in Nash were out hunting a few days ago. One of them endeavored to shoot a squirrel—his brother now sleeps beneath the cold, cold ground.

Says the Battleboro Advertiser: "We are pleased to be able to report that the small pox is subsiding in Nash. The last case reported, Mrs. Hiram Edwards, we regret to learn, is dead. We have heard of no new case."

The enterprising proprietors of the Raleigh News offer a handsome premium to any sending them one hundred yearly subscribers accompanied with the cash. The premium is to be an elegant Singer Sewing Machine, valued at $55.00. Those who may think proper to avail themselves of this opportunity will be restricted to no particular locality.

On Monday morning last, says the Robesonian, Henry Bullock, Sr., died. He lacked but three months of being one hundred years of age; he was the oldest white man in Robeson county. He voted at every Presidential election since the days of Washington, and last August rode five miles on horseback to vote the Conservative ticket. He was a honest, good citizen, a successful farmer, and had been a consistent member of the Baptist church for over fifty years.

The Battleboro Advertiser records the marriage of Mr. Annie Taylor and A. H. Hicks of that vicinity. The local of that paper gets sentimental on the subject. Says he: "As we looked upon the happy pair as they plighted to each other the comfort, love and protection of a life, our mind was filled with bright dreams of domestic life, cozy little firesides, happy hours, shirts for Sunday with all the buttons on, &c., and we half made up our mind to ask some little fair haired damsel to be a partner in our joys and sorrows."

The officials in the Courthouse at Wilmington are exercised about spirit rappings, which they allege frequently take place in the building. Says the Star: "The Register of Deeds was startled from his equanimity a few nights since, while busily at work, by a tremendous noise in the apartment of the building mentioned, which sounded as if all the chairs had been seized simultaneously and knocked against the floor. The door was speedily locked at the time and he might have investigated the matter, but, having suddenly remembered a very pressing engagement at home, he postponed an elucidation of the mystery to a more convenient season and took his departure.

"Several others have heard the unaccountable rappings, on various occasions, and fully corroborate the Register's story in every particular, but so far to be content to remain in ignorance as to the cause to the mysterious sounds. One of the parties states that he had occasion to go in the room late one evening, and in leaving he was positive that he heard footsteps behind him, although, to his certain knowledge there was no other person 'in the flesh' in the room at the time. He didn't look behind to see if there was any object visible, because he had been on business that required haste. These noises are never heard but at night."

OUR NORFOLK LETTER. (Special Correspondence News.)

Ingratitudes—Personal Altercations and Murderous Assaults—Label suit by the Mayor—The Trade of Norfolk—Fish, Fowl and Game—Preparing for Christmas—Good Wishes.

NORFOLK, VA., Dec. 19, 1872. Editors of Daily News: The welcome visit of you men feel more gratefully than a day. I am always glad to write you sometimes of what was going on in this busy little mart of Eastern Virginia. Of course you provincialists (mind you, I mean no disrespect in the application of the term) are also from many of the hawking and dangerous enameled which often carried the blood in the veins of all law abiding citizens.

Some few days ago, one Thomas Smith and James, his brother, were set upon by a gang of ruffians, two brothers, Ramsey and one Edw. and, and most unmercifully beaten, and to-day Thomas Smith is reported to be dying. A few days before, a youth, Captain of a Sloop, flying between here and different places in North Carolina, was brutally murdered on board of his boat which was by the murderers set on fire, but owing to some fortuitous circumstances discovered in time to save the Sloop, but not soon enough to save the mutilation of the remains some what from fire. The perpetrators of this crime, owing to the vigilance of our active and energetic detectives, Robert Steel and John Evans, assisted by the able force of our Mayor J. R. Lullow and his police force, are now in jail. The guilty parties in the first case recited, have been recognized to appear for trial at the January term of our corporation court.

The holy season of Christmas is almost upon us and our stores—the collections and fancy ones at least are very inviting, and both young and old are hunting for presents befitting the season—and dropping in on C. Jordan & Son, this morning I espied a very galaxy of beauty. As many of your readers know this is one of the oldest firms in the confectionery line of Norfolk, years upon years they occupied a store near that famous hotel known as the "National," on the corner of Main and Church streets; but now they have removed to a larger and far more commodious store on Main Street, which they have fitted up in handsome style, and as they have enlarged their store, so they have done their stock, which holds the finest candies, toys, &c., in this whole city, and best as well as the most popular young men—(being still single), in this portion of this State.

"I were well to see your fascinating young ladies should look after him. True he's a 'bach,' though he might be more charming as 'a widower.' This firm will shortly make their debut before the people as an advertiser in your columns.

The greatest sensation of the day is the libel suit brought by His Honor, John R. Lullow vs. John R. Hathaway, the editor and proprietor of the Norfolk Day Book for libel. Your correspondent being a personal friend of the parties declines to say anything in the premises either pro or con, and expresses the hope that the affair may yet be adjusted in this christian spirit of charity. Stride engenders feelings whose memory lasts as long as time. Let us live without backbiting, be it too short to be wasted.

It would astonish many of our readers to see the amount of trade carried on here on Campbell's wharf in the way of wild fowl, game, oysters, fish and terrapins. The water's fair fields and valleys of this State, as well as that of the dear old State of North Carolina are taxed daily for the supply of the markets of the whole country. Howard & Bro., Walter and Charlie Howard, are among the largest dealers; they are young men of the finest business qualifications, and their shipments embrace almost every city, village and hamlet in the country. Hundreds of wild-fowl, game, fish and oysters of the old Dominion and North Carolina are shipped daily by them to almost every quarter of the United States. May their shadows never grow less. Now though you people in Raleigh who never saw an oyster grow on the tops of pine trees, as I have, and doubt the assertion, yet nevertheless it is true, and if you doubt it, I will refer you to Captain Charlie Smith, from whom there is no better judge of this delicious bivalve in the world to bear me out in the truth of this. No one can doubt this; he is employed by the first oyster houses in this city and knows.

I wish for you all, editors, publishers, printers and readers of the Raleigh Daily News a very happy Christmas, and a happy and prosperous new year. May peace and prosperity attend you ever. AVOE.

UPWARD.

Upward, where the stars are burning,
Upward, where the angels sing;
Upward, where the sky is brightest,
Upward, where the light is bright;
Upward, where the angels sing,
Upward, where the light is bright;
Upward, where the angels sing,
Upward, where the light is bright;

Where the glory brightly dwelleth,
Where the angels sing;
Where the angels sing,
Where the angels sing;
Where the angels sing,
Where the angels sing;
Where the angels sing,
Where the angels sing;

Blessing, honor, without measure,
Heavenly riches, earthly treasure,
Lay the praise that now we render;
Lay the praise that now we render;
Lay the praise that now we render;
Lay the praise that now we render;

Bill App on Bill Tell.

Professor Koll has found out that there never was such a man as William Tell. I don't know that Kroll-eatin' Koll, but I'll bet that he's mad with some fellow by the name of Tell, and went to work to undermine his family.
If there is a fellow of this name, face of the earth who enjoys trying to pull down and new build up, a man may do a heap of good things, but if he makes one little mistake they'll talk about that and throw it up forever.
They'll always mention it with a but.
"He's a very smart man, but, he would be a great man, but." His intentions are very good, but. Regular sappers and miners they are. They suck all the sap out of a tree to kill it, and then undermine it to throw it down.

Now, here's a fellow who can't make himself notorious in any other way, and he goes to sapin' and minin' Bill Tell.
Now, I don't believe one word of it. I was named for Bill, and if there was no such man, then I'm nobody but Bill App—that's all. That fellow is a fool, and he's got a big job on his hand if he thinks he can rob history of its best story, and make a hundred millions of folks believe what he says. He's envious of Bill. Because he can't shoot an apple or string a cross-bow, or make himself famous, he don't want anybody else to.
Every few years some conceited fool attacks history. I understand they've got a society to bile it down and stew it. Well, it's sorer like washing for gold—they lose more than they catch.
Now it ain't been very long since one fellow denied that Shakespeare ever lived.
Well, they are sorer hard on the Bills, ain't they? Another wrote several columns to prove that old Bonaparte died before he was born, and another man took up forty pages of a Yankee magazine to prove that one of the Bonapartes was living in obscurity on the banks of Lake Michiganackinack. He hated old Bonaparte's family so bad that he was willing to swindle a half breed Canada
Indian out of the throne of France.

Now there was a Gessler, and he was a tyrant, and Bill Tell wouldn't tip his hat to him, and he put him in jail, and Bill's son Henric was a noble little boy, and Henric was to die unless Bill shot an apple off his head, and little Henric was blindfolded and stood firm as a rock and still as the grave, and a shout, and the little boy was saved, and the apple was hit in the center. All that's so and Tell waylaid old Gessler afterwards and killed him and set Switzerland free. Its all so. Its been in the books ever since I was born. I've read it a hundred times, and told it to Bill Run and Chickahominy and Bob Lee, and all the little Apps, and I'm not going to take it back. I had found it wasn't true for a thousand dollars, and I don't like the man who did tell it, nor the man, woman or child who believes it, for its like robbing a dead preacher of his tombstone to rob history of William Tell.

My opinion is that the peace and happiness of the country is in danger from these sappers and miners. We'll all have to have a creed and swear to it.
I believe in George Washington and his hatchet, and Isaac Newton and his apple tree. I believe in Bonaparte and Shakespeare, and Andy Jackson at the battle of New Orleans. I believe in Santa Claus and Pocahtontas and John Smith and Ben Franklin and Jefferson Davis and Dixie, and the 4th of July, 1776. I believe that an old man once found a rube boy up one of his apple trees stealin' apples. I believe the milk-maid spilt her milk when she tossed her head and said, "Green it shall be." I believe in Robinson Crusoe and his man Friday, and the island of Juan Fernandez. I believe in old mother Goose and Cinderella and John Robinson's Circus. I believe in Greely and Bennett, and of her dead editors, except Sam Bard, late of the Chattanooga Herald, deceased. I believe most solemnly that Ben Butler stole spoons. I believe in the big battle of Waterloo and Bull Run and Thermopylae and Dorking and Leatherford. That last battle was immortalized in verse by Jack Jones when he wrote, "Big fight John Sanford, he fit a mity battle. He fought it out at the Ford, where Leather's stole the cattle." I believe that Gen. Grant told the truth when he said they had two million six hundred and eighty-eight thousand of soldiers in the field in the late war. I believe that old Sherman marched through Georgia about half a mile behind me and my folks, and Big John was saved by tying a knot in his steer's tail. He needn't deny it for I saw the knot.

TESTIMONIALS.

WAKE FOREST COLLEGE, N. C.,
April 30, 1872. }
MR. JAS. PIRSSON:
SIR—The Piano which I purchased from you in September, 1870, is a very superior
one. It has been frequently tested by competent judges, all of whom give unqualified testimony to its excellence. I could not ask for a better instrument.
Very Respectfully,
W. G. SIMMONS.
